Last month at Clementine Gallery, former Gawker editor Choire Sicha organized a show of works that poked gentle fun at the art world we know and love, with works like Joy Garnett's painting of New York's Chelsea Art District on Fire, clearly an update of Ed Ruscha's The Los Angeles County Museum on Fire (1965-68). It had already been snapped up by a savvy buyer for $799.95.
